Secure Your Data When On The Go

Protect yourself while on vacation.

Traveling isn't just linked to summer vacations. Many of us travel during the winter months to escape the cold, snow, or visit families for the holidays. Make sure to protect yourself while traveling by taking a few simple but effective precautions.

- To ensure the safest shopping experience online, be sure the link starts with https. The “s” stands for secure. Also look for a padlock, which is usually found in the bar at the top of the screen next to the web address.
  - Turn off the autocomplete settings in your browser settings so your card data and personal information aren't being stored. While it's very convenient, it's also not best practice.
  - Finally, be sure to monitor your transactions and report any discrepancies. If you find an unknown transaction, contact the service provider by calling the number on the back of the card. They'll help you resolve the issue.
  - Implement fraud alerts offered by DeWitt and Wilton Bank. Set alerts to be notified when transactions are being made to protect your account from theft.
  - Many debit are set to decline transactions when they're from a different location. This is for your safety, yet your valid transactions may also be declined. Before you travel, call us or use the Shazam Bolt$ app to set a travel notice on your account to allow you to make purchases when you're in a new location.
- As the use of card and mobile payments increase, protecting personal information becomes increasingly important. Keep your card in a safe place and sign out of your online account after using it.
- If you stop at the ATM before hitting the road, protect your transaction.
    - Before inserting your card, pull firmly on the card reader to make sure there aren't any overlays. Fraudsters install overlay devices on top of the ATM equipment to capture your card's magnetic stripe data. They're usually very loose and will pull off easily. If this happens, take the overlay into the institution and report what you've found.
    - To help keep your PIN secure, shield your PIN entry with your hand. Fraudsters install mini cameras to spy on your PIN entry. Your hand is an effective block.
  - Follow these same steps when shopping at the store and using a point-of-sale device. Don't assume the clerk is watching the point-of-sale device. They're busy doing their job, and fraudsters know this. Those same overlay devices can be installed on a point-of-sale terminal in a matter of seconds. Don't hesitate to give it a tug.

Travel Notice Reminder:

When traveling don't forget to set up a travel notice on your account. Call us in DeWitt at 563-659-3211 or Wilton at 563-732-3211. Another way you can set a travel notice is by using the Shazam Bolt$ app. Which can be downloaded from the Google Play or Apple Store.

Tips to Save This Holiday Season - and Next

Celebrating the holidays can be pricy – from travel to decorations to food and, of course, gifts. There are ways to keep from going overboard this holiday season.

Tips to cut back on holiday spending this year:

- Set a budget and stick to it. Knowing how much you can afford to spend is the first step to making sure you don't overspend this holiday season. Set a budget you are comfortable with, and use it as a guide for holiday spending.
- Make a list. Now that you know how much you can afford to spend, make a list of everything you need to purchase for the holidays. Compare the list with your budget and cut out unnecessary items.
- Shop on Small Business Saturday. We all know about the great deals on Black Friday and Cyber Monday. However, did you know about the great ways you can save and find gifts right in your hometown? By shopping local on Small Business Saturday you can find great deals and unique gifts while supporting your community.

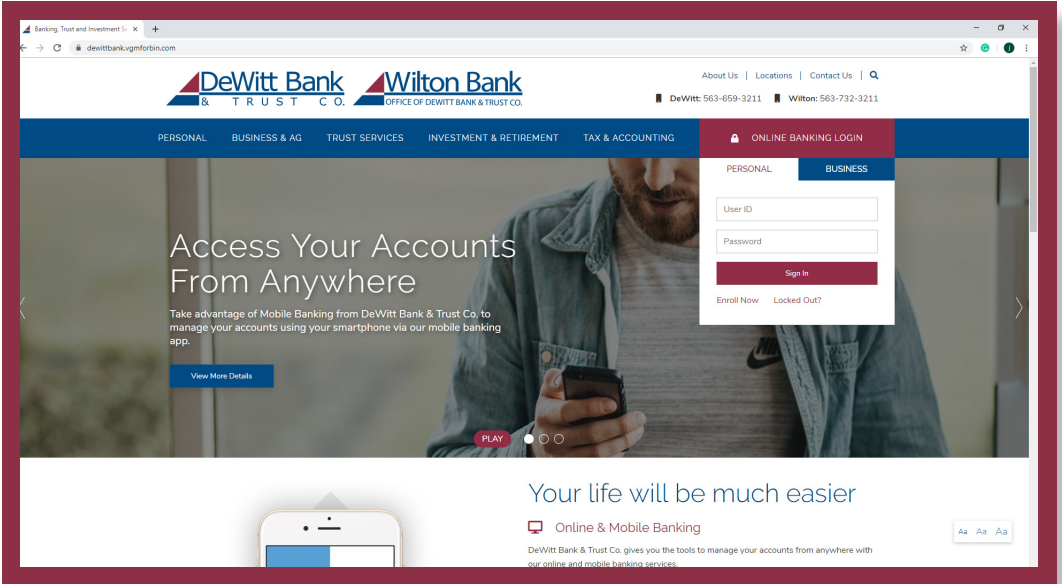

Tips to save for next year's holiday season:

- Start saving now for next year. The best way to save is to do it all year long. By depositing just $50 per month into a savings account at DeWitt or Wilton Bank, you will have $600 saved for holiday expenses by the time the next season comes around.
- Keep leftover wrapping paper and accessories for next year. Rather than buying the wrapping paper and other holiday accessories you need each year, designate a closet or space in your home for any left over wrapping paper, decorations and other holiday necessities.
- Open a Christmas Club account. If you are worried that you will be tempted to spend the money you are putting away, opening a Christmas Club account may be a better option. Christmas Club accounts are short-term savings accounts earmarked specifically for the holidays. For more information talk with a personal banker today about a Christmas Club account.
- Buy new decorations after the holidays. If you need to invest in new decorations, wait until the season is over. At this time, stores try to reduce their inventory of seasonal items and sell them at lower prices.
